

Arts Housing Application

Middle Hall

Middle Hall, the Arts Housing, is a selective creative community made up of Art/Art History, Drama, and Music majors, although there are also frequently first year students and English majors in residence. Middle Hall aims to enhance the experiences of students in the Arts by involving them in special programming, enhanced connections to their faculty, and unique opportunities for achievement. These three components are conducted with a combined effort between academics, student affairs, and the Middle Hall House Council.

This learning community supports the mission of Washington College by helping students enhance their imagination and their appreciation of the arts through application and experimentation. Middle Hall encourages students who are enrolled in art fields to pass on their experiences and educate other students about the arts.
