

March 2011

Dear Washington College Parents:

Before you know it, exam time will be here, and your student will be studying hard. We invite you to help make it a little more pleasant with the gift of a spring semester Exam Care Package, carefully prepared by the Women's League of Washington College.

Since the Women's League began this tradition in 1999, Exam Care Packages have become a Washington College favorite. Each eagerly anticipated care package is distributed to your student right on campus in a reusable plastic box. Exam Care Packages contain an assortment of delicious treats to fuel studying, along with fun Washington College logo stuff and, of course, your personal greeting. Plus, a few lucky students, chosen at random, will receive a $100 gift card to the WC bookstore.

Let your students know you're always thinking of them with love and pride. Order your Exam Care Package today. Deadline is April 14!

Here's how to order:

- Complete the brief form below and cut at the dotted line
- Personalize the enclosed blue card with your name and a message on the back
- Promptly mail form, card and your check for $25 in the envelope provided. Please make sure we receive it before the April 14 deadline.
- If you would like to order an Exam Care Package for a student studying here from abroad, please enclose an additional $25

Students will be notified through campus mail to expect an Exam Care Package, along with instructions for picking up their gift on Monday, May 2. (Unclaimed packages will be donated to the Community Food Pantry.)

Proceeds from this program fund the Women's League annual scholarship and other projects benefiting the students of Washington College. Thank you for your support.
