

WASHINGTON COLLEGE POLICIES

ANIMALS IN THE WORK PLACE

No animals may be kept by employees on campus, other than those approved by the administration for medical or academic purposes. For health and sanitation reasons, animals are not permitted in residence halls or other College buildings or at official College functions at any time. This policy applies to all members of the College community. This policy does not apply to trained assistance dogs that are actively engaged in the service for which they are trained. If you see an employee with an animal on campus please contact public safety. If suspected violations are taking place, please report to your supervisor.
