A. ENG 101 helps students develop their capacity for intelligent reading, critical analysis, and writing through the study of literature, frequent writing assignments, and individual conferences with the professor on the student's writing. Students must earn a grade of "C-" or higher in ENG 101 to satisfy this requirement.

B. Global Perspectives Seminars (GRW 101) address topics best understood from global or multinational perspectives, encourage thinking beyond national boundaries and introduce students to library resources, information literacy and presentation techniques; topics vary widely and reflect diverse disciplinary and multidisciplinary perspectives.

II. Foreign Language Requirement

(Students must complete one or two courses in a foreign language depending on their placement level.)

A. For students starting a new language or students placed in the 100-level of a previously studied language, complete two courses (eight credits) in that language.
